THE POSITION

The Oakland City Attorney's Office seeks a well-qualified individual with expertise in labor & employment law, and a keen interest in public-safety reform. The incumbent will play a central role in the City's ongoing efforts to enhance police accountability, while still working on a wide range of personnel matters across a variety of City's departments.

Consistent with the City's values and evolving state law, the incumbent will help the City maximize transparency for the Oakland Police Department. In addition to advising on general police-records issues, including California Public Records Act requests, the incumbent will spearhead the City's ongoing publication of police personnel-records related to uses of force and other serious matters, provide direction to a team of contract-attorneys and paralegals, monitor and analyze new legislation, and help develop protocols and systems to increase the public's access to records.

Additional duties will include, but not be limited to: working collaboratively with other attorneys, City staff, and City leadership to analyze labor and employment issues and resolve disputes; advising City investigators and Department heads on employee-misconduct, due process, and related grievances, including advising on police-misconduct investigations and discipline; representing the City in administrative hearings to resolve labor and/or employment disputes; drafting and reviewing opinions, legislation, contracts and other legal documents which require the application of labor law and/or employment law.

The incumbent may receive general supervision from a Deputy City Attorney V, Special Counsel, Chief Assistant City Attorney or the City Attorney. The City Attorney may assign the selected attorney to new, additional or different duties or practice areas in litigation, advice or transactional work.

Office Description

The City Attorney's Office provides advice and counsel to the Mayor, City Council, and City departments, boards and commissions in a wide variety of areas including but not limited to land use, real estate, personnel, elections, conflicts of interest, municipal finance, retirement, housing, public contracting and economic development. The City Attorney's Office also advocates for the City's interests in claims and lawsuits litigated in state or federal court, including high-value personal injury cases, complex civil rights actions, breach of contract, personnel disputes, eminent domain actions, inverse condemnation and alleged constitutional violations.

The Office has approximately 80 employees and has three legal divisions: Advisory Division; Litigation Division; and Labor & Employment Division. The work is high profile, dynamic, collaborative, and complex. And the work is of vital importance to the City's realization of its progressive and cutting-edge policies and programs, and to the City's delivery of services to Oakland's residents and businesses.

Job Description

Duties may include but are not limited to:

- Performing legal research, interpreting and applying laws and court decisions; preparing opinions for departments, programs, boards, commissions and officials.
- Preparing, reviewing and revising legal opinions, ordinances, resolutions, employment contracts, MOU's, settlements and other legal documents; revising such documents as necessary to meet legal standards.
- Advising on investigations of labor and employment claims and complaints by or against the City and recommending actions to be taken.
- Advising assigned clients, including the City Administrator, Employee Relations Director, Human Resources Director, and Chief of Police, on employment matters to help them comply with laws and policies and to help them identify various risks and manage them accordingly.
- Preparing cases for hearings, administrative proceedings, and related writs, including labor arbitration hearings, Civil Service Board hearings, and hearings before the Public Employee Relations Board.
- Advising the City Administrator, Employee Relations Director and other designated labor negotiators in preparation for and during labor-contract bargaining and other labor negotiations.
- Developing training materials and providing training to staff on relevant legal issues.
